Statistics Show
183-Firm Increase
In Past 10 Years

Statistics released this week by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. show a 44.2 percent increase of business firms in Milam County in the ten-year period, 1947-1957.

Figures obtained from a physical count of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book for November, 1957, totaled 600 manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers in this area as compared to 416 listings in 1947.

The Reference Book only lists manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers. It does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as barber and beauty shops, stock and real estate brokers. Thus the figure for businesses in Milam County would actually be higher than the number quoted.

The Reference Book contains approximately three million business listings for over 50,000 communities in the United States. It is published every 60 days to keep listings current.

Using the Dun & Bradstreet listings as a guide it is interesting to review what has happened in the 13 principal Milam County communities during the past 10 years:

NEW CAMERON CHURCH — The Church of Christ, Cameron, will hold dedication services and open house Sunday in their new church structure at Third and N. Central, Cameron. The $30,000 structure replaces the old spired, frame building used by the congregation. The old structure was torn down last fall prior to construction of the new church.

Cameron Church Of Christ Dedication, Opening Sunday

Dedication service and a formal open house will be held in the new building of the Church of Christ, Cameron, Sunday.

Time for the dedication service is 3 p.m. Open house will be held from 4 to 6 p.m., according to Cato Sheerer, minister.

W. Glen Rucker of Rucker & Logsdon in Temple, was architect for the modern brick structure. Construction contracting was by the Graham Construction Company of Cameron at a cost of $23,725. Bush Construction Company of Cameron handled the air-conditioning and heating contract at $5,302.

The new brick and frame building has 4,100 square feet of floor space and is fully air conditioned.

The auditorium seats 160 persons and there are facilities to seat another 160 in chairs in the auditorium part of the building. New oak pews have been installed.

There are eight classrooms and a nursery which is equipped with a speaker so that services in the auditorium may be heard by mothers using the nursery. The floors are covered with vinyl tile throughout the building. The rostrum area is carpeted.

Beginning with a congregation of 10 who organized following an open-air revival meeting, the Church of Christ membership is now comprised of nearly 100 members. The group had no permanent meeting house until 1928 when R. L. Batte, Sr., gave the discarded frame building, formerly the Presbyterian church, to the small congregation. It was moved to the lot where the new building now is. There were about 50 members when they moved into that building.

The membership fluctuated through the years that followed and had grown to between 75 and 80 members by the first of 1955. In 1955 the first plans were discussed for building a new building and a building fund was begun the first Sunday in February, 1955.

The budget for 1954 had been $5,043.52 and, after the building program was started new interest in giving and in growth was noted. The congregation grew to about 100 by the end of 1955 and the contributions totaled $10,398.16 for the year.

The membership now is 94. The budget for 1958 calls for $11,840.00. Demolishing of the old building began July 21, 1957 and the first service was held in the new building on the night of December 30, 1957.

The Building and Finance Committee and the trustees for this building program are O. A. White, Chairman, James T. Wade, R. L. Batte, III, C. T. Dodson and W. W. Burroughs.

Subcontractors on the building were: Joe Gerick, electrical; Elzy Harris, painter; Tommy Gunn, carpenter; O. B. McDonald; plumbing; Fischer Tile Company, floor tile; Sam Tindall, brick; Edwin Brod, speaker system; American Desk Company, Temple, pews and office furniture.

Voters Approve $140,000 Issue In Water District

Voters in the San Gabriel Water Control District approved a $140,000 bond issue January 14 by a 449 to 98 margin and re-elected five directors.

The count on one box, Hare, was incomplete, but outcome there would not affect the outcome, officials said.

Re-elected to one-year terms as district directors were H. B. Fox, Circleville; Donald Irvine, Georgetown; A. C. Weir, Georgetown; C. V. Hutto, Bertram; and Henry Labaj, Granger.

The $140,000 bond vote completes the new district's portion to finance preliminary planning for construction of small dams in the San Gabriel Watershed in Williamson, Milam and Burnet Counties.

The federal government will furnish from five to six million dollars for the 50-dam project.

Officials said a detailed survey for location of dam sites will follow.

The large bond issue is the second approving funds for the project. A first vote for $10,000 in preliminary bonds was approved last fall.

Pastor, Cattle

Service Sets Stage For Nepal Flight

A special Sunday night service at the Ben Arnold Evangelical and Reform Church will start a fabulous story of travel and human understanding for the church's minister.

The Rev. Gerald R. Cobb, Ben Arnold E&R pastor, will leave Waco Tuesday for New York City and a round-the-world flight to Nepal following dedication services Sunday.

His mission is to deliver stock purchased by the church congregation for the people of Nepal.

He will fly with a plane-load of cattle, pigs and other stock to New Delhi, India, then on to Kathmandu, capital of Nepal.

His experiences will be traced in exclusive Herald by-line features from various points around the globe.

Rev. Cobb will illustrate his series with pictures starting from Idlewild Airport, New York City, departure field for the cattle plane.

Services will be conducted Sunday night by the Rev. John Miller, Waco, president of the Texas Senate of United Churches of Christ (E&R).

Plane transportation is being furnished by the International Cooperation Administration United Nations, Rev. Cobb said. The cattle exchange is under the auspices of the Point Four program established by the United States in foreign nations.

Rev. Cobb will be the official emissary of the Texas E&R church on the trip.

His eight-week world tour will begin Tuesday when he flies from (See Service Sets, Page 12)

Rev. Cobb Fills Role Of Linguist, Pastor

Profile: a Milam minister in Nepal.

A unique situation calls for a unique person to carry on.

That person in this instance is the Rev. Gerald R. Cobb, pastor of the Ben Arnold E&R Church. He will take cattle purchased by his congregation to the Iowa-size nation of Nepal, situated near Tibet in Asia.

Minister at Ben Arnold since 1956, Rev. Cobb will be returning to Asia and the Indian area for the second time.

Serves In India

He served in the Air Force during World War II in India and Burma for four years. He learned the Hindustani language during his tour, one of the reasons he was selected to make the Nepal trip.

Rev. Cobb will tell Herald readers what a plane flight with a load of cattle is like, what his impressions are when he meets famous personages such as Pandit Nehru, religious leader in India, and many other amazing experiences on the eight-week world tour.

Rev. Cobb came to Ben Arnold from Lexington, N. C., where he was pastor for four years.

Prior to that pastorate, he served in Oregon, Florida and Tennessee following graduation from San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, Calif. He holds a bachelor of arts degree from Washington & Jefferson University, Washington, Penn.

Thus travel is nothing new to the erudite Rev. Cobb.

His travels have been the basis for his selection as chairman of United Promotion for the Texas

Action Follows Utility's Move For Injunction

The City Council Tuesday night approved interim rate increases proposed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. following court action by the utility to seek an increase.

Attorneys for Southwest Bell had filed a petition last week in district court asking for a temporary injunction allowing rate hikes based on 6.7 percent losses in the past two years in Cameron.

Hearing date for a temporary injunction against the city was set for February 3.

The new interim rates will affect Cameron exchange patrons as follows:

One party business phone—up 50 cents to $9; one-party residence phone—up 50 cents to $5.25; two-party residence phone—up 25 cents to $4; four party residence phone—no increase.

Dial Rate To Follow

Officials said another rate increase will go into effect after dial telephone service is installed.

City Atty. Jack Prescott said the council's reasons for agreement to the increase were based on the projected cost of fighting the suit filed by Southwestern Bell.

He said it might cost the city $50,000 to contest in the courts the utility's request for an increase.

Rates termed "dial rates" by city officials following installation of the system would be: one-party business phone, $11; one-party residence phone, $5.75; and two-party residence phone, $4.25.

No four-party service will be available after dial installation, officials said.

E. B. Camp, attorney for Southwest Bell, read a letter to the council Tuesday night that said dial service would be installed within two years barring wartime emergencies.

The letter was written by C. L. Carson, Bell manager in Cameron.

$21,300 Total Loss

Councilman Richard Moseley read loss figures supplied by the utility which listed losses in the Cameron exchange totaling $21,300 for both local and long distance calls.

Southwestern Bell had listed losses of $37,600 last August in the local operation when they asked for an increase. The council denied the increase in August.

Prescott said that the interim rate increase would actually save Cameron about $25,000. He said that additional revenue to the company would be $10,672 per year under the interim schedule.

Additional revenue under the "dial rates" would be $23,107 above the old rates which brought in $120,681 in 1957.

The council met in two sessions prior to the meeting Tuesday night before voting on the proposed increases.

Brady Takes Poll

Councilman Charles Brady said he polled 12 businessmen Tuesday afternoon. Eleven of the 12 polled, he said, were in favor of dial service.

Telephone officials said that dial service is scheduled in the future, regardless of rates in Cameron.

Southwestern Bell sought a temporary injunction hearing February 3. If granted, the injunction would have allowed rate increases asked by the company pending later court decisions.

Prescott's estimates of the city's cost to fight the suit were based on cost to take the case through the state supreme court.

Council for Southwestern Bell based their request for an increase here on losses on an investment valued at $542,000 in September, 1957.

Motorboat Owners Face Problems Of Boat Care

By Vern Sanford

Eventually every owner of an outboard motor boat faces this problem: Should I leave my boat in the water, or should I buy a trailer?

That's exactly the question that was asked by one of the readers of this column. And I'll try to answer it.

Leaving the boat in the water continually calls for the monthly payment of a stall-rental fee. It's either that or ownership of a dock. And owning one is far more expensive than renting. But there are many other angles to consider, besides the docking cost.

A fellow who keeps his boat in the water all the time always has it available for immediate use. He saves time launching and loading, not to mention the cost of buying a trailer. Something else too... he eliminates the problem of where to store the boat and trailer. Also the problem of transporting trailer and boat from home to lake.

Loading and unloading a boat, at best, is no easy matter. It requires at least two persons to do the job, even for the smallest runabout. And usually it necessitates leaving your car in a not too desirable location... with the added possibility of theft or damage to car and trailer.

Also well worth considering is the possibility of damage to the boat while loading and unloading, as well as in transportation to and from the boating locale.

Time Element Is Important

Important to most of us is the fact that it takes far more time to get aboard... from the moment you decide to go boating... if you have to be bothered with hitching and unhitching a trailer, and unloading and reloading the boat. A boat already in the water is ready for instant use... or almost so... depending on whether you first have to remove a tarp and tidy up a bit.

Then there's the maintenance problem of the trailer... small but ever present.

Finally, and as important as any feature to most of us, is the matter of finance... the cost of buying a trailer, an annual license, and insurance.

Now, let's look at the other side of the picture... the advantage of having a trailer... and not keeping the boat in the water all the time.

In the first place the cost of building a dock, or the expense of stall rental eventually would pay for the trailer.

Another mighty important point to consider is the advantage of moving the boat from one lake to another. In Texas with its many lakes and rivers and the Gulf Coast area, available for fishing or boating, this is a highly important point in favor of trailer ownership.

I speak from some experience when I say that keeping a boat in a public dock has its worries, even though the dock be well guarded. While there isn't as much fear of someone stealing your boat or your motors from a public dock, as from a private dock located in some remote spot on the lake, there is the ever present worry about pilfering.

If you are going to have your boat readily accessible so that you can take your friends and business acquaintances boating on a moment's notice, you must leave it in all the necessities of boating. Namely gas tanks, a battery, several life preservers and a couple of cars. Ever present is an extra long coil of rope, an anchor with rope attached, several bumpers, and at least two mooring snubbers.

In toto that's not much. But they are "loose" items, and they can be stolen.

Beware of "Borrowers"

Then there's another problem. The temptation to joy riders. Every so often one reads of thrill-seeking kids who, out of sheer devilment, "borrow" a boat. Some are not too careful with them either. It was only last year that four boys commandeered a brand new runabout and, after a wild midnight ride, finally sank it in Lake Austin. The boat was less than 24 hours old, and the kids were less than 21 years.

More and more outboards are coming equipped with keys. But a youngster bent on borrowing can short one out in short order. Sort of like locking your motor to your boat. If they are going to steal it a lock won't make much difference.

There is another kind of "borrowing" too. The honest kind. Some people think nothing of asking you to loan them this or that. How valuable it is makes no difference. No man likes to loan his boat. But your borrowing friends are more likely to ask for the loan of your boat if it's already in the water.

A regular problem of all motor boat owners is "gassing up." You gotta have the petrol to percolate. Some of the lakeside gas stations are virtually inaccessible to all but the expert boatman. Far too many are in difficult to reach locations.

With our trailer, however, we just gas up the car, tell 'em to put white gas in the boat's tanks (along with outboard motor oil) and roll on our merry little way. Sure lots easier than trying to fill up while in the water. Regular gas is next best. But avoid the high octane, treated stuff. It tends to gum up your motor, especially after long periods of inactivity.

There's something else to consider. If you leave your boat in the water, keep your eye on the level may cause you plenty of trouble, even sinking.

To put it briefly, we like the trailer idea. But if yours is a big boat, or an inboard, leave it in the water, keep your eye on the weather. Heavy rains may fill your boat. And a sudden rise in the lake a large boat so if it's an 18-footer or over, better let 'er float.

Enthusiastic endorsement has come from Lone Star Gas Company management in Dallas regarding the January 6 announcement that Whirlpool Corporation of St. Joseph, Mich., has purchased from Servel, Inc., all facilities, including patents, property and equipment, relating to the Servel gas refrigerator and ice maker, according to Charlie Burke, Cameron district manager.

"Lone Star Gas Company is enthusiastic over the purchase by Whirlpool," Chester L. May of Dallas, Lone Star senior vice president, said today. "The large research and engineering facilities of Whirlpool assure splendid quality and fine performance of the gas refrigerator," Mr. May said. "Whirlpool is one of the largest and most capable manufacturers of household equipment in America, having grossed some $400 million in sales in 1957."

May said that Whirlpool will honor all present warranties. He added that Lone Star has and will continue to have replacement parts as needed by present owners of the gas refrigerator.

Cotton Hit Hard
Texas cotton producers literally took it on the chin from a lot of sources in producing their 1957 crop. Deferred and Exempt Differ

Deferments Vary, S S S Points Out

Registrants who on or after June 19, 1951, were classified in a deferred classification have liability extended to age 35. Excepted is one group of deferred registrants, the members of the National Guard who joined prior to attaining the age of 18 and one-half and subsequently classified I-D. This group of I-D registrants has liability extended to age 23.

Prior to June 19, 1951, the Selective Service Law required the deferment of conscientious objectors opposed to both combatant and noncombatant service in the Armed Forces and of those registrants with wives alone, no hardship involved. On June 19, 1951, the Selective Service Law was changed and these two groups of registrants were no longer deferred. These men did not have their liability extended, even though the two classifications were still in effect on the date the law, extending liability, went into effect.

A deferred classification is distinguished from classifications which do not constitute a deferment by the language used in the Selective Service Law.

When the words "deferred" or "deferment" are specifically used then the category is classed as a deferment. When the words "exempt from training and service," "shall not be liable for induction" or "relieved from liability" are used, then there is no deferment in connection with the classification, and liability ends at age of 26.

Not all I-D classifications are deferments. Not all I-D classifications extend liability to age 35. As an example, members of the ROTC of any college, except A&M College, classified I-D because of such membership, have liability to age 35. Members of A&M College have liability to age 26 only, even though members of the ROTC and classified I-D, because A&M College is the only school in Texas whose curriculum has been approved by the Secretary of Defense. The law reads that these men "shall be relieved from liability for training and service." Since the word "deferred" was not used, this particular classification for A&M students is not a deferment.

Employers were reminded today that their employees are entitled to receive two copies of a "Withholding Statement," Form W-2, on or before Friday, January 31.

In making this announcement A. P. Andrews, Administrative Officer of Internal Revenue Service, in Temple, said, "This statement shows the total wages paid and the income tax and social security tax withheld, if any, during the calendar year of 1957."

Total wages shown on an employee's W-2 should include amounts received as sick pay from his employer, even though no tax has been withheld on such sick pay. Sick pay is not required to be shown separately.

If it becomes necessary to correct a W-2 after it has been given to an employee, a corrected statement must be issued and marked "corrected by employer."

Chamber Plans Broiler Contest For Farm Youths

County Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club members will vie for cash prizes in the Milam County Junior Broiler Contest to get underway next month.

The contest to select show chickens raised in a nine-week period by the contestants is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Each contestant will be sponsored by a county businessman, who will provide 50 chicks and entrance fee for his entry.

Businessmen will present the chicks to their entries in a ceremony on the courthouse lawn February 28.

Chicks will be raised according to standards approved by FFA and 4-H Clubs. On May 3 each contestant will choose the best five chickens from his flock and enter them in the poultry show to be held that day. Chicks will be judged on standard points for broiler shows and ten cash prizes and ribbons will be awarded in each class, Pullets and Roosters.

Bill Arthur is 1958 Poultry Show chairman.

the County Extension Office in the Post Office Building and filed with the Board of Water Engineers, 1410 Lavaca Street, Austin.

Annual Grain Conference
The 1958 grain storage conference will be held in the Memorial Student Center of Texas A&M College January 30 and 31. The conference is to aid county elevator operators, equipment and building dealers, and farmers with large storage operations. The two-day program is designed to apply mainly to persons interested in rice the first morning and to persons interested in grain sorghum that afternoon and next morning.

Improved varieties of all crops, including vegetables, will pay, according to research workers at Texas A&M College. This is one of the practical ways to apply research locally. Example: TEXTO NO 2 and HOMESTEAD tomatoes are rated ahead of RUTGERS for additional yields. New varieties are released each year and our people are urged to get this information.

42 Leisure Club Meets Thursday

Mrs. Ralph Michalka was hostess for the 42 Leisure club at her home Thursday.

Mrs. L. F. Slama received the high score favor and Mrs. P. L. Bergum was second high. Mrs. Henry McLane received the 84 prize.

Mrs. Michalka served refreshments of hot kolaches and coffee.

Next meeting will be January 30th at the Magnolia House with Mrs. John Matyastik, hostess.

Local Farmers Increase Costal Bermuda Supply

When any new or improved conservation crop is introduced and proven in an area, one of the main problems of getting it applied extensively to the land is the availability of enough locally produced planting material.

Until this year, this has been the problem with Coastal Bermuda. It has proven itself in all soil types found in the Central Texas area, and the demand for planting material is expected to be high this year.

Because of the confidence and efforts of two conservation farmers in Taylor and Central Texas Soil Conservation Districts, a good supply of local Coastal Bermuda sprigs will be available.

Lawrence McClaren, who farms three miles east of Cameron, has increased his one acre plot to approximately 100 acres. Joe Glaser, who lives two miles south of Buckholts, also has about 100 acres. Both of these men have pioneered Coastal Bermuda in this area. They are sold on its value and have agreed to furnish sprigs on a commercial basis to others who want to set out Coastal Bermuda this year.

McClaren and Glaser report similar results in establishing this grass. They are quick to emphasize the value of a good seed bed and enough of the right kind of fertilizer to get it started. The time to get it in the ground is from now until the last of June.

Cameron Airman Serving In Guam

George Ervin Burwick, Airman, USN, grandson of Mr. Fred E. Baker of Rt. 1, Cameron, is serving with Airborne Early Warning Squadron THREE, aboard the U.S. Naval Air Station, Agaña, Guam.

Burwick, who entered the Naval Service June, 1955, reported on board from the Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Before entering the Navy, he attended Yoe High School in Cameron.

Conserving His Soil

Good Saves Farmland With Contour Work

Johnny Good, who operates a 150-acre farm north of Cameron, is one of the better conservation farmers in the Central Texas Soil Conservation District.

When Johnny purchased this farm a few years ago, it was like so many of our Blackland farms. During wet seasons, the rains fell on the bare soil which was in poor condition, taking a lot of the soil with it as it ran off. Then in the dry seasons, the top soil and even the well and small stock ponds went dry.

Corrects Run-Off
Johnny corrected his run-off problem to a great extent by terracing and contouring his entire cropland acres. He is still improving his soil condition with deep rooted legumes and high residue producing crops.

Each year his soil shows more life in it, and production is improving but this did not correct his livestock and household water problem.

In early 1957, he put 10 acres of his cropland in the Conservation Reserve and was the first farmer in Milam County to construct a stock pond on Conservation Reserve land. This was a perfect place for a 4000-yard dam. Soon after it was completed, it filled up.

Surface Water 3 Acres

The surface water covers over three acres and is located where it keeps his well recharged, so it seems that both his household and stock water problem has been solved. On this Conservation Reserve land Coastal Bermuda, Sorghum alnum, Blue panic and Johnson grass are furnishing a variety of food and cover that makes this ten acres a wildlife paradise.

Johnny still has some conservation jobs to do, but they are in his blue print. He has his plans set to get them completed as soon as possible.

A conservation farmer is one who recognizes the needs of his land and is making an effort to correct these needs. Mr. Good meets both of these qualifications.

Buckholts 4-H'er Seeks Award

Hal Lester Senkel of Buckholts turned in a cotton record to compete for the Texas Cotton Ginners Association Award, according to Bennie Whiteside, assistant county agent.

The TCGA Award is given to the boy turning in the best cotton record. Senkel, through fertilization, irrigation, and a strict insect control program, harvested 2 and one-half bales of cotton per acre.

Grain Storage Conference

The annual Grain Storage Conference will be held at Texas A&M College on January 30 and 31. Country elevator operators, equipment and building dealers and farmers with large storage operations should find the information to be presented of great value to them. Rice will get major attention during the first half day while grain sorghum will be featured during the remainder of the Conference, says W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer.

Watermelon Growing To Be Discussed For County Farmers

Watermelon growing, from planting through marketing, will be discussed by Blueford G. Hancock, Texas A&M College Extension Horticulturist, Thursday night at the Rockdale High School Agriculture Building.

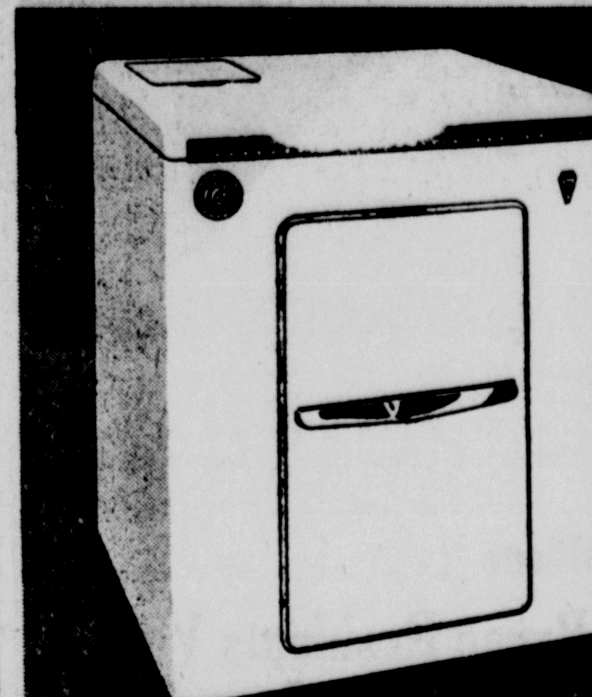

The discussion for Milam County watermelon growers is set for 7:30 p.m. Hancock will be assisted by two A&M melon specialists.

The sweet potato weevil eradication program was discussed at another meeting Monday night. Milam County is in a sweet potato weevil quarantine area. As a result, potatoes cannot be shipped out of this area. Russell Koonz, District 5 Supervisor for the State Department of Agriculture, explained the eradication program necessary to get the quarantine lifted.

THERE IS A CHURCH YOU OUGHT TO KNOW:

This church pleads for the restoration of the New Testament church; practices the unity of all Christians on the basis of God's Word; has no creed but Christ; and preaches no "isms".

This church seeks to present Christianity as intelligent as science, as appealing as art, as vital as the day's work, as intimate as home and as inspiring as love.

Its Foundation — "Other foundations can no man lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ." I Corinthians 3:11.

Its Creed — "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." Matthew 16:16.

Its Rule of Faith and Practice — "Every Scripture inspired of God is also profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for instruction, which is in righteousness; that the man of God may be complete, furnished completely unto every good work." II Tim. 3:16-17.

Its Name — "The churches of Christ salute you." Romans 16:16.
Its Worship — "And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in the breaking of bread and in prayers." Acts 2:42.

Its Mission — "Go ye therefore and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you." Matthew 28:19-20.

Our Prayer — That the disciples of Christ may all be one that the world may believe God sent Him. John 17:21.

Clyde Hensley Jr. On Bahamas Trip

Clyde W. Hensley, Jr., of Cameron enroute to Nassau recently visited the Citrus Tower in Clermont, Florida.

The Tower is located on US 27 halfway between Silver Springs and Cypress Gardens. It was built as an observation point from which the traveler can look over some 2,000 square miles of the lakes and hills section of Central Florida's fabulous citrus belt.

Hensley also plans to see the dog races in Hollywood, Fla., and the horse races in Miami.

Boy Scout Leaders Set Goals For Year

Twelve members attended the first 1958 meeting of the Tejas District Boy Scout Cabinet Committee recently.

Sam Dollihite presided. Jack Prescott, Richard Williams, A. M. Tate, E. H. O'Neal, G. E. Allen, Phillip Young, Gene Walker, Gene Butler, L. R. McAtee, Joe Spadera, and Burts Kennedy attended.

The cabinet looked at the needs and set goals of extending better scouting to more boys, providing more training for the leaders, and increasing camping to more units.

The committee will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Episcopal Church in Marlin.

Control For Leaf-Cutting Ants

1,800 demonstrations conducted in 56 Texas counties last year under the direction of county agents showed that odorized methyl bromide was 96 per cent effective for controlling the troublesome leaf-cutting ants.

Extension Entomologist F. M. Fuller says the leaf-cutting ant poses a threat to the record plantings of pine seedlings in east Texas especially if the seedlings are planted on lands heavily infested with the pest. He recommends treating the colonies with odorized methyl bromide and suggests that details on the use of the material be secured from the local county agent.

Water District Approved

Milam County has part of a second water control district within its boundaries following approval last week of the San Gabriel area by almost a 4.5 to 1 vote.

The Elm Creek Watershed was previously established in Milam-Bell and other counties in years past.

Final approval of the San Gabriel district came January 14 when voters approved expenditure of $140,000 in bonds for area financing of the federal project. The federal government will provide five to six million dollars for construction of dams and other water control measures.

Five directors were elected in the San Gabriel district. Also last week voters elected four directors in the Elm Creek area.

Establishment of two control districts means future protection in those areas against catastrophic floods and washouts such as those occurring in Lampasas and Georgetown last spring.

The record rains swelled Little River to near record proportions in the Central Milam area while a creek in Rockdale ripped through parts of that south Milam County town.

Water control district are no panacea, but are a measure to prevent wholesale destruction of land, crops and structures in the path of raging waters. In the time of drouth, dams built in water districts hold water for use in irrigating and watering cattle. None of these measures are new. But their acceptance in Milam County is important. We may not have a record rainfall during 1958. Most agricultural people now say we do not need it.

If not, dam and tank control of water will play an important part in storing water during drier seasons.

Control of heavy rainfall when we have it will prevent a large percentage of runoff. Holding the water will assist in gradually raising the water table in the area.

The 449-98 vote means voters in the district realize the importance of watershed control.

Farmlife Less Complicated.
Crowded Than City: Sage
By J. A.

Dear editor:
It's pretty hard to get the farm problem discussed in Washington these days, what with the satellite problem crowding out everything else, although man may discover after he gets out into space there's nothing out there that'll grow anything, in fact, you talk about dry places, I bet it hasn't rained out there in millions of years and I can't see where there'd be a place to drill an irrigation well. As a matter of fact, from a crop standpoint I wouldn't be surprised if outer space is a complete flop.
But I did run across another article on the farm problem in a newspaper the wind blew in yesterday afternoon. According to it, the entire farm program ought to be thrown out and every farmer who can't make a living entirely on his own ought to move to town and get a job.
Well, this sounds all right, but it seems to me crossing the city limits won't necessarily equip a man to earn a living. At least, I know lots of people already in town who aren't making a living, and personally I can't see much difference in not quite making ends meet in town or in the country, except in the country fewer people know about it.

Also, while I know most towns and cities are chomping at the bit to grow bigger and might welcome an influx of farmers, it seems to me that most cities already have more people than they can provide paved streets for, or furnish police protection for, or build schools for, or hire enough teachers for. You talk about farmers being undercapitalized, they're well off compared with the struggle most big cities are having to find enough revenue to keep going. The hunt for new markets for farmers' products is nothing compared with the search in cities for a new source of revenue.

If I lived in a city, I believe I'd go a little slow on recommending more busted farmers, in the hope they'll move to town. Most cities remind me of a pasture in a drouth. They're pretty badly overstocked already.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Daniel Urges Texans To Pay Poll Tax

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN—Pay your poll tax! Pay your poll tax! Pay your poll tax!

That's the cry from all corners as individuals and groups begin their campaigns for support in the upcoming 1958 elections.

AFL-CIO and strong labor committees are making a vigorous drive to get union members to pay the $1.75 right-to-vote tax, and become eligible to put labor in the saddle in Texas government. Gov. Price Daniel is urging all Texans to get that poll tax receipt now, before the Jan. 31 deadline.

Says the Governor, "Bad public officials are elected by good citizens who do not vote. I urge every Texan who loves this State and believes in majority rule to pay his poll tax and take an active part this year in the fight for constitutional government of, by and for the people." He emphasized that "minority groups should not be allowed to take over Texas." Also busy contacting eligible voters are the State Democratic Executive Committee, headed by Jim Lindsey of Texarkana and Jake Pickle of Austin.

"It looks like a country folks' big city battle," said one observer. "With labor determined to swing the big cities, the final decision may rest in the hands of the multitude of smaller Texas towns and the rural folks. Usually they can be depended upon to vote, rain or shine."

Politicking Is On

By tradition, the opening of the red bud in East Texas is a sort of starting gun for politicking.

Some seasoned campaigners regard an announcement before red bud time as a farmer would look on planting before the last frost. But for politicking or farming, there has to be some fence mending, tool sharpening, seed buying and ground ploughing before planting time.

Hence, this January, though the air is still frosty, Texas politicians are preparing the ground for a hoped-for harvest of votes next summer. In Austin every move by a person in public life is interpreted as tool sharpening.

These events in the news are regarded as part of the pre-campaign cultivation.

INTEGRITY AND ECONOMY in state departments will be emphasized in 1958, said Gov. Price Daniel in a speech kicking off his second year as chief executive, and the year in which he is expected to seek re-election.

Speaking to some 200 state officials, Daniel asked them to be responsible in their departments for strict compliance with reform laws passed last year. He said two types of people can undermine public confidence in Texas' 56,000 officials and employees... a "very few" wrongdoers and "self-seeking demagogues" who capitalize on the scandals.

He's not ready to sing bankruptcy blues, said the governor, referring to predictions that the state treasury would be in the red by 1959. Nor is he yet convinced, he said, that new taxes will be necessary next year. But he urged department heads to keep a sharp eye on expenses and offered services of his budget staff to officials needing help in dollar stretching.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY CONTROL is expected to be a hotter issue this year than most campaigns for Capitol posts.

Stage is set for the first round of customary shin-kicking and name-calling at the State Deming here Feb. 1. SDEC is largely made up of conservatives favorable to Governor Daniel. Their critics and opponents are the Democrats of Texas, a liberal group which contends its partisans were in the majority at the last state convention, but were unfairly squeezed out of party posts.

DOT has drawn up a proposed "code of ethics" which, it says, will prevent any fast shuffles at future conventions. At the Feb. 1 meeting DOT representatives will urge the Executive Committee to adopt the code.

Rattling The Bars

More housing, more paroles, more industries are recommended by the Board of Corrections to relieve "a potentially explosive situation" in Texas prisons.

Board said it will probably ask next Legislature for $7,500,000 housing appropriation. Mgr. O. B. Ellis' report to the board on prison "rumbling" said that with the inmate population at 10,500, at least 75 per cent have to be crammed into "tanks" (one-room barracks) with 400 sleeping on the floor.

Board also urged speed in getting into operation the paid parole supervisor program, authorized by last Legislature. Supervision system is designed to permit more paroles. About one-third the required number of supervisors has been hired so far.

Records Help Poultry

Decisions based upon a hunch or rule-of-thumb contribute little to the solution of poultry flock management problems, says Ben Wormeli, extension poultry husbandman. He points out the use of records provides a means for organizing needed poultry flock information into a form which can be analyzed and understood.

WORRY

It is worse than many a disease. It can make you old before your time. It can even kill you. And before it does, it can destroy all your happiness. We know all that... why then, do we worry? We worry because we have too many fears for our shallow supply of faith. A man or woman needs faith enough to brush aside his fears. God is ready to give you all the faith you need. But you'll never get it worrying all week... In Church next Sunday, you can renew and strengthen your faith. In so doing, you will be able to face life unafraid.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Light Leads Our People

Each day a new door opens. What it reveals on the other side, for the people who must pass over its threshold, depends upon the conditions under which they lived their yesterdays.

Those in some countries look through the door upon a new day shadowed with oppressions, where there are few freedoms, tyrannies abound and living is hard and cold.

Those of us in America are more fortunate. Opening the door each day, we are met by the light of freedom which has led our destiny for many years. Protecting that freedom has been — and always will be — a Press that will not succumb to dictation or overpowering despotism.

For the light that leads to all freedoms is Freedom of the Press: Education... information of all kinds... news of all that transpires... and the open discussion of opinions and ideas that sharpens understanding.

Complete freedom of speech and of the press is the light that builds understanding, helping all mankind to advance onward and upward through the opening door of each tomorrow.
